

3 New Classes in

Video Production

VIDEOCLUB
of LAGUNA WOODS

All are welcome to attend a series of three new classes taught by Tom Nash of special interest to those involved in video production. To be held on Friday afternoons in the Video Studio, starting Friday, September 27, except for the two second Friday afternoons when Video One Productions now meets. On Friday, October 11, and Friday, November 8, the classes will meet in the morning from 10 am to noon.

“The Importance of Music in Your Video”

1 session

“Music is the most important non-verbal tool we have as videographers,” says instructor Tom Nash. This research-based presentation will show you how to enhance and reinforce your video with music, rather than distracting from the main point. The program will be video-recorded to stream later on the club website.

$5 for members, $20 for non-members (includes 2019-20 club membership).

Dr. Tom Nash – Friday, September 27; 1-3-pm,

“How to Record Great Audio and Solve Audio Problems”

2 sessions

Includes an introduction to the free, open-source audio-editing program Audacity. You shoot video, be it an interview, an event, a musical performance, or a birthday party, and the pictures are good -- but the sound? Not so good! This course will teach you how to get great sound.

$10 for members, $25 for non-members (includes 2019-20 club membership).

Dr. Tom Nash – Friday, October 11, 10 am-noon, Friday, October 18; 1-3 pm, Video Studio

“Advanced Studio Production Using Green Screen”

3 sessions

With our Video Studio green-screen set recently enlarged and enhanced (including its own new lighting), you can do even more with this exciting technology. Come and learn how to get amazing effects!

$15 for members, $30 for non-members (includes 2019-20 club membership).
